Steel Fabrication & Site Solutions for Housing Developments

Transforming Steel Into Solutions

At Walform, we don't just fabricate steel — we deliver complete, dependable solutions for modern developments. Every project is backed by precision workshop processes, strict quality control, and a reputation for reliability. From bulk fabrication runs to bespoke site solutions, we're trusted by contractors to deliver on time, every time.

Gates & Access Solutions

Strong, secure, and built to last — Walform gates are designed with both functionality and finish in mind. From sleek timber-infill side gates to fully welded steel access doors, we create entrance solutions that blend seamlessly into new housing estates. Each gate is fabricated for durability, weather resistance, and smooth operation, ensuring homeowners and contractors alike have confidence in quality.

Railings & Balustrades

Our railings and balustrades set the standard for safety and style. Whether it's stainless steel and glass balcony systems, galvanised guardrails, or powder-coated estate boundaries, Walform ensures flawless fabrication and installation. Every railing is designed to meet building compliance, enhance security, and elevate the look of residential developments.

Security Solutions

Security doesn't have to be an afterthought. Walform manufactures custom protective steelwork that adds both safety and visual appeal. From utility box covers and window grills to CNC plasma-cut privacy panels, our solutions combine strength with architectural detailing. Each piece is engineered to protect without compromising on design.

Floor & Drainage Grates

Hard-wearing and practical, our fabricated grates stand up to the demands of high-traffic residential and commercial areas. We produce heel-safe, anti-slip entrance grates, balcony and walkway grating, and custom drainage covers. Every product is precision-cut, built to perform, and finished to blend cleanly into its surroundings.

Structural Steel From residential extensions to large-scale estate structures, Walform delivers structural steelwork that development contractors can rely on. Our beams, frames, and support systems are fabricated with exacting precision, installed with care, and built to last. Whether it's a complex coastal build or a housing expansion, we provide the backbone that keeps projects moving.

Transforming Steel Into Solutions

We supply and install structural steel that forms the backbone of modern residential construction. From lintels over windows and doors to beams, columns, and precision bracing plates, our steelwork is fabricated to exacting standards for strength, safety, and compliance. Every piece is delivered ready to perform
